facebook

We held our first Raptcha'u Beauty Facebook auction last month, auctioning off a beautiful one hour warm stone massage. It was a great success, and we thank everybody who was involved.

For those who missed out, there's no need to stress! Our second auction will be held on Friday the 14th of October, beginning at 9:30am. The prize? A Microdermabrasion that your skin will LOVE! Normally valued at $105, the bidding will start at $40 and the highest bid as of 7:00pm that day will win the treatment for the offered price!

To get involved, simply search for Raptcha'u Hair and Beauty on Facebook and like our page. Then keep an eye out for our status on the 14th of October on which you can post your bids. And the best part? Everybody who places a bid receives a free $10 voucher!!

VITAMIN A

MISCONCEPTIONS REGARDING VITAMIN A

1. Vitamin A thins the skin; retinoic acid, which is a form of Vitamin A, has a peeling effect on the skin and thins the skin, hence the stigma of thin skin. This is FALSE! Environ actually uses ester forms of vitamin A, which thickens the living layer of the skin. The living layer of the skin deteriorates as we age.
2. Vitamin A makes the skin photo sensitive (sensitive to the sun); FALSE! Roaccutane that the doctor prescribes DOES make the skin photosensitive, but again, we use ester forms of Vitamin A, which have a photo protectant factor.

BENEFITS OF VITAMIN A

1. Ensures a healthy dermis and epidermis
2. Normalises cell differentiation
3. Normalises skin abnormalities
4. Accelerates skin healing
5. Stimulates collagen and elastin formation
6. Normalises pigmentation
7. Is affective in the treatment of acne

If we have a vitamin A deficiency, we suffer from pigmentation irregularities, sun damage, premature ageing and skin cancer. When women menstruate, their Vitamin A levels decrease.

Forms of Vitamin A can be found in Environ's AVST 1-5, C-Quence 1-4, C-Quence Eye Gel, AVST Eye Gel and ASAP's Super A Serum.
